- 3. Identified the following species of the present invention that he alleges to be patentably distinct from one another:
  - Species A, claims 17 and 21 drawn to a liquid crystal display device according to Fig. 1A wherein a short-circuiting bar is placed at a smaller of the distances of the first and second diodes, and including consideration of method claims 17 and 21.
  - Species B, claims 18 and 22 drawn to a liquid crystal display device according to Fig. 1B wherein a short-circuiting bar is placed at the largest of the distances of the first and second diodes, and including consideration of method claims 18 and 22.

- Species C, claims 19 and 23 drawn to a liquid crystal display device according to Fig. 6A wherein test signal lines are connected to each of the data signal lines and a short circuit bar is placed at a smaller of the distances of the first and second diodes, and including consideration of method claims 19 and 23.
- Species D, claims 20 and 24 drawn to a liquid crystal display device according to Fig. 6B wherein test signal lines are connected to each of the data signal lines and a short circuit bar is placed at a portion nearer to the data signal lines than the first and second diodes, and including consideration of method claims 20 and 24...
- 4. Required the Applicants to elect one of the foregoing species under 35 USC 121 for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted in the event that no generic claim is found to be allowable.
- Required Applicant to list all of the pending claims that he deems to be readable on the elected species;
- 6. Indicated that upon the allowance of a generic claim, Applicants will be entitled to consideration of claims directed to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all of the limitations of the allowed generic claim.

7. Reminded Applicants that any claims added to this application must specify the species to which they are directed.

No further comment concerning items 1, 2, 6 and 7 is deemed to be required in this Response.

With respect to items 4 and 5, Applicants hereby elect Species A (Figures 1A) for prosecution in the event that no generic claim is finally held to be allowable.

In those instances where authorization to charge is included, processing delays are encountered in returning the papers to the PTO Finance Branch in order to apply these charges prior to action on the cases. Authorization to charge the deposit account for any fee deficiency should be checked. See the Notice of April 7, 1986, (1065 O.G. 31-33).
